

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS

Summary Account of Doings in City and Country

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

The North Pacific History Company
—Klamath County Fair Association.

Yesterday the North Pacific History Company, through Ashley Bancroft, J. H. McMillen, P. F. Castleman, L. M. Parrish, F. E. Vaughn and J. G. Chapman, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The object of the corporation is to procure and prepare material for the publication of two volumes of history pertaining to the northwest coast of America. The principal office is to be located at Portland and the capital stock fixed at $25,000.

Articles of incorporation were also filed by the Klamath County Agricultural Fair association; incorporators J. O. Hamaker, John S. Shook, Mathias Walker, J. C. Potter, J. B. Griffith, J. T. Fulkerson, R. C. Miller; object to conduct an annual fair for the exhibition of agricultural and other products of Klamath county, at Bonanza, Klamath county; capital stock $1,500 in shares of $100 each.

North Pacific Industrial association; incorporators W. S. Ladd, Frank Dekum, Amos N. King, Donald Macleay, Geo. B. Markle, Jr.; object to conduct a mechanical agricultural and live stock exhibition, museum, etc., at Portland; capital stock $100,000 in shares of $100 each.

Home Enterprises.

We had the pleasure of a call yesterday afternoon from Mr. Oliver Jory, of H. S. Jory & Son, manufacturers of the Oregon Fruit Dryer. Mr. Jory has just returned from a short trip to Corvallis and Albany, made in the interest of the dryer. He reports the prospect good for getting in large dryers at both places. The CAPITAL JOURNAL wishes success to such enterprises. If our Salem people would exhibit a little more enterprise it would be much more to their advantage. There is a good demand for charcoal in Albany. It is likely 1000 bushels could be sold there if looked after soon. Let some of our Salem charcoal dealers come to the front and look after the matter and it will be to their own advantage. They are referred to the Willamette Packing Co. for further particulars.

That Excursion.

The river has risen to an excellent boating stage and is still rising. This condition of the Willamette insures a perfect arrangement for all those who go on the excursion the 10th, to have a most delightful trip. The magnificent steamer Multnomah will come to Salem on the afternoon of the 12th, ready to take all on board early on the next morning for the cyclorama and Cascades. Be sure to take field or opera glasses in order to best enjoy the scenery.

Course of Lectures.

Dr. Gilbert, the eminent Physiologist, Scientist and Anthropologist, will commence a short course of splendidly illustrated, amusing and instructive lectures at the opera house on Friday evening, April 6th, on the great science of Anthropology. Opening lecture free. Subject, first night, "The Physiology of Health, Disease, Character and Crime." All are invited. Commences at 8 sharp.

Monthly Report.

The letter carriers yesterday made out their reports for March, which are as follows: Delivered—letters, 9,572; drop letters, 638; postal cards, 1,390; drop postal cards, 302; newspapers, etc., 9,412; collected—letters, 8,805; local letters, 367; postal cards, 162; local postal cards, 60; newspapers, etc., 748.

Demurrer Filed.

Shaw & Griggs, attorneys for Lemuel Walker, of Woodburn, have filed in the circuit court, a demurrer to the complaint of Laura Scudell, who wants $3,000 damages for wounded affections, etc. The demurrer alleges that the complaint does not allege sufficient grounds for action.

New S. P. S.

H. B. Stanley, C. P. Thomas, H. A. Wright, H. J. Whitney, J. Hunter Wells, Felix Callahan, and A. E. Severance had the degree of doctor of medicine conferred upon them by the medical department of the State University last night.

Democracy in Council.

The democratic convention meets in Pendleton to-day. The body is composed of 157 delegates, of which seventeen are from Multnomah and nine from Marion. John P. Irish, editor of the Alta California, and fugleman for the administration, will be present at the gathering, but as this is not that gentleman's funeral, it is thought he is merely there for his health. The candidates and their backers were on the ground before the arrival of the delegates, with a view to fix up their comparative strength. Office being, as the Multnomah democracy expresses it, a mere "matter of profit and advantage," it is right that all should share in it, hence we may look for a keen scramble for the spoils. Wide speculation is indulged by the journals, of both parties as to the aspirants for office likely to be favored by the convention; but as that body is now busily engaged making history, it will be well to wait until the lightning has struck, and then we can tell who are victims for burial. To-morrow will be likely to tell the story.

The Railroad Commission.

Business must wait on politics. Yesterday was the regular monthly meeting day of the commissioner, but Commissioner Slater could not tear himself away from the democratic state convention at Pendleton to attend to the duties for the performance of which he is paid by the state. Commissioner Waggoner and Clerk Bell met and adjourned to the last of the week, when Commissioner Slater may find time to attend to his official duties. They will then go to Oswego to examine into the cause of the recent disaster on the Narrow Gauge road near that place. Van B. DeLashmut has written the board that he has no complaint of discrimination in freight charges to make against the O. R. & N.

Visiting Kansas.

John A. Rosanderson, of Florence, Kansas, are here with a view to locating. The former was engaged in the real estate business and the latter in school teaching before coming here. They are now stopping at Hosford's boarding house on Liberty street. J. I. Wise, banker of Concordia, Kansas, is here visiting his old-time friends, Henry and A. L. Buckingham. He has visited every part of California, but is much better pleased with Oregon than with that state. He says that a great many Kansas people who have settled in California are looking toward Oregon with a view to coming here.

Moved Into New Quarters.

Messrs. Gibson & Singleton have moved their stock of drugs into the handsomely appointed quarters they have had fitted up on the corner of Commercial and State streets, and in a few days, when they get things straightened out will show the people of Salem the handsomest pharmacy on the Pacific coast. Mr. Gibson is a thorough druggist and Mr. Singleton is a competent business man, so we may expect to see them not only hold the large trade worked up by George Good, but increase it. Their old quarters will be occupied in a few days by Messrs. Staiger Bros.

Sick and Bedridden.

Fred Diner, the sewing machine agent of North Salem, received injuries in some way several days ago while working about his house, and has since been confined to his bed. Night before last he was taken with convulsions and up to the present time is in a dangerous condition. His family is in a nearly destitute condition and the county court has been asked to relieve their necessities.

Shipping Garden Truck.

Savage's and other market gardens around town have kept the Salem market well supplied with garden "wares" for some time. John G. Wright has now commenced shipping pie-plant, radishes, onions and other garden truck to Eugene City, and will next week commence supplying Roseburg and other Southern Oregon towns with vegetables.

Albany Wants the Chair Factory.

H. D. Mount, of Mount & McMillan, will go to Albany to-morrow or the day after to see what arrangements can be made for building a chair factory there. Mr. Mount states that he has not given up the idea of rebuilding here; but he considers the proposition the Albany people talk of making worth listening to.

Another Year.

A prisoner named George Duffy, sentenced to two years for larceny, was brought up to the penitentiary from Portland last night.
